

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE

Wednesday, April 28, - - - 1897.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The interior of the postoffice is being painted.

Mr. Hilliard G. Wylie is quite sick with pneumonia.

Mr. J. C. Caldwell is having an addition put to his house.

A fine line of bicycle and Tam O'Shanter caps offered at Lauderdale's. Go and get one before they are all picked over. Sailors in every shade and quality at any price.

It was hoped that some of the young ladies and young men from Ridgeway would come up to the garden on Thursday night, but they failed to put in an appearance, to the regret of every one.

There has been some talk of reorganizing the Gordon Light Infantry. This was, at one time, one of the best military companies in the State, and we hope that steps will be taken at once towards a reorganization of the company.

Sunday being the Octave of Easter, the Episcopal church was very prettily and tastefully decorated, and Easter music was sung. As the church was closed on Easter, the service on Sunday was enjoyed very much by the congregation.

Messrs. Sam Thomas and Jno. Parker rode up from Ridgeway on their wheelers on Thursday morning. The roads between Ridgeway and Winstonsboro have been very much improved by the work that has been done by the changing recently.

An unusually attractive display of millinery this week at Lauderdale's. In addition to the large variety shown there will be exhibited beautiful creations from our milliner that are entirely new and original. No trouble to show you. Lowest prices.

The telephone line between Mr. H. S. Wylie and Mr. W. C. Bealy's store has been completed, and is working splendidly. Mr. Wylie's clock in his sitting room can be heard striking distinctly from this end of the line. It is a pleasure to talk over a line which works so satisfactorily.

Chester will hold an election soon to authorize floating bonds to a large amount to have electric lights, water works and other improvements. It is time that Winstonsboro had some of these; we might as well have a telephone exchange. Unless we hurry, wires will be strung through the entire county, before Winstonsboro has an exchange.

R. Brandt says in his ad. that in his beautiful jewelry store in Chester he has shirt-waist sets of every kind, gold, silver, or mother of pearl. He has new patent studs in solid gold, which is very handsome, easy to operate and very secure. Covered milk pithers are among the new things that he has. Read his advertisement and see his prices.

The cold weather, which for the past few days we have been having, is very injurious to young plants, and especially to the young cotton. Complaints are heard on all sides that nothing is growing and the cold weather will probably put gardens back a good deal. The recent high winds have dried the earth so much that rain is very much needed, strange as it may seem after such a deluge as we have had.

The young ladies of the A. R. P. Church held a business meeting on Tuesday night to decide upon the date of the bicycle and baby show, and to make some of the arrangements. They decided that the 14th of May would be a convenient time for the carnival, the weather permitting. As it is to be an outdoor entertainment the skies will be eagerly watched by those interested in the show. The ladies have chosen the college green as the best place to have the carnival.

Extensive preparations are being made in Columbia for the floral, horse and bicycle show, which will be held on the 28th and 29th of April. There are few places where lovelier flowers can be seen than in Columbia, and the May party which is to be given in the State House on the night of the 28th will no doubt be a scene of beauty. Cut flowers and pot plants will be exhibited there. The bicycle parade will no doubt be well worth seeing, and handsome prizes will be given for the prettiest costume, best riding, etc. The railroads will give excursion rates from April 27th to May 1st. The floral horse show takes place at the fair grounds on the 28th, and on the 29th the floral bicycle show will be held at the same place. The show is being given by the Wide Hampton Chapter U. D. C. and Camp Hampton U. C. V.

You will find at Lauderdale's this week a fine line of ladies' and misses' trimmings. Untrimmed hats, every shape and color, and a bewildering display of flowers, such as poppies, violets, geraniums, roses, pansies, dahlias, daisies, and all at popular prices.

Very few people realize the size of Pelzer, and in fact many people do not know where the place is. It is situated on Saluda river, in Anderson County, and thirteen years ago about a dozen people lived there. Four large mills have been built, which employ three thousand operatives, and to-day there are between seven and eight thousand inhabitants. Pelzer sprung up only in seven years ago, and now is the fourth town in South Carolina in population. It is a town without a corporation, a municipal government or any politics. We mention this, not for the purpose of boasting Pelzer, but to show what manufacturing industries will accomplish for a town.

A DELIGHTFUL GERMAN.

The German which the dancers have been looking forward to with so much pleasure came off on Thursday night, and was a most delightful affair. A large number of couples were on the floor, and some very pretty figures were danced in the German. Mr. W. D. Douglass and Mr. T. W. Lauderdale being the leaders. Thomas' band from Columbia furnished good music and dancing was continued until 1 o'clock. The dance was given in compliment to the young ladies visiting in town.

MANNA-CATHEN.

On Wednesday night, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. L. Canthen, of the Bethel section, Miss Ella Canthen was married to Mr. Frank Mann. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Miller, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hook, who was pastor of Bethel church last year. The room in which the wedding took place was beautifully decorated with flowers, and the young couple stood beneath an exquisite wedding veil, made of pure white flowers. After the ceremony the company partook of a delightful supper.

A LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

The bicycle riders met in the town hall on Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of taking preliminary steps towards forming a league. Mr. W. D. Douglass was made temporary chairman and Miss Jessie Jennings was made secretary pro tem. The following committee was appointed to draw suitable by-laws and regulations: Misses E. G. Dwight, Lilla Beatty, Charlotte Allston, and Messrs. J. Q. Davis and W. G. Jordan. Another meeting will be held in the same place next Thursday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock for the purpose of ratifying the by laws.

ATTENTION, CAMP RAISES, U. C. V.

A meeting of Confederate veterans of the above-named camp is hereby called for Monday, May 3rd next, at 12 m., in the town hall, or if that is occupied meet in the court house. A full meeting is very desirable as business of importance is to be transacted, especially the election of delegates to the grand reunion in Nashville, Tenn., in June. The old veterans from the country are especially urged to attend this meeting, and any whose names have not been enrolled are cordially invited to join. A fee of ten cents is required of every member.

By order:
R. H. Jennings, Commander.
John J. Neil, Adjutant.

WIDEMAN'S WIT.

The Hon. William Wideman, of Abbeville county, delivered his lecture, "Hit the Grip," to a fair audience in the court house on Monday night. The lecturer treated his subject from various standpoints, among them "hitting the grip" morally, "hitting the grip" spiritually, "hitting the grip" financially. Mr. Wideman is a man of considerable versatility, and led his audience gracefully from a flight of pathos down to the level of a good joke. Possessing some historical art, he added to the force of his lecture frequently by facial contortions, which made the humorous features of his address the more contagious. As an evidence of his versatility, he would now and then easily glide into a song illustrative of some point.

What the Shakers of Mount Lebanon know of about than anybody else, is the use of herbs and how to be healthy.

They have studied the power of foods. They nearly all live to a ripe old age. The Shaker Digestive Cordial is prepared by the Shakers from herbs and plants with a special tonic or over the stomach.

It helps the stomach digest its food, and digested food is the strength-maker.

Strong muscles, strong body, strong brain, all come from properly digested food.

A sick stomach can be cured and digestion made easy by Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It cures the nausea, loss of appetite, pain in the stomach, headache, indigestion, and all other symptoms of indigestion, certainly and permanently.

Sold by druggists. Trial bottle 10 cents.

A GOOD CITIZEN PASSES AWAY.

The sad news reached Winstonsboro on Tuesday morning of the death of Mr. B. F. Boulware. He had been unwell for possibly a week, and died on Monday night. It is thought that the immediate cause of his death was heart disease. Mr. Boulware was a son of the late Benjamin F. Boulware, and belonged to an old stock of Fairfield County noted for their solidity of character and the elements of good citizenship. Mr. Boulware leaves a wife, who, before her marriage, was a Miss McMaster, a sister of our townsman, Dr. R. J. McMaster. A large family of children and his sisters, Mrs. William Stokes, and Mrs. R. N. McMaster, survive him. Mr. Boulware was a member of the local Masonic Lodge, and his masonic brethren accompanied his remains to Wateree Presbyterian Church, where the funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, with masonic honors. The deceased enlisted in the service of the Confederate army and true to his characteristic devotion to duty in private life, he made a gallant and faithful soldier.

A SAD DEATH.

The following, which we take from the Greenfield News, Wednesday, announces the death of the youngest daughter of Rev. Dr. W. H. Campbell, rector of St. Paul's church Charleston. The deceased spent several years of her childhood in Winstonsboro during the time that Dr. Campbell was rector of the Episcopal Church in this place. The friends of Dr. Campbell will be grieved to learn of his great affliction.

A telegram received here yesterday announced the death at Charleston of Mrs. A. Baron Holmes, Jr., yesterday morning. The deceased was a Miss Marion Campbell, the youngest child of the Rev. Dr. W. H. Campbell, the beloved pastor of St. Paul's of Radcliffeboro, of Charleston. She was a native of this city, being born here twenty-six years ago. For about twenty years the Rev. Mr. Campbell and his family were residents of this city, returning to Charleston in the early seventies.

The deceased was a beautiful young woman of the loveliest traits of character. She had been married only two years. She is well known here, having resided in this city. Charleston and Greenville to-day sorely regret her death.

The remains will be brought here to-morrow afternoon for interment in Christ church cemetery beside her brother, William Campbell.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winstonsboro's SOUTHERN SYRUP has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children's daily feeding, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winstonsboro's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

Seldom have the lovers of music enjoyed so rich a treat as was afforded them by the concert at the college on Friday night and our town might well be proud of such a display of her local talent. From the opening number, a duet by Miss Allston and Dr. Aiken, to the very last, the large and appreciative audience was treated to music of a high order. Very much of the enjoyment of the evening was due to the exquisite performances, both vocal and instrumental, contributed by the charming visitors, Misses Pixley and Parmater, (whom we are glad to say will henceforth be numbered among the dwellers in old Fairfield). Their music was of rare excellence, and completely captivated the audience. Miss Allston's sweet voice has more than once charmed the lovers of song, and on this occasion she fully sustained her former reputation. Dr. Aiken's unusually sweet and sympathetic tenor bleated beautifully with Miss Allston's soprano in the duet, "O! that we Two Were Maying." Nothing could have been sweeter than the bird-like voice of Miss Susie Ketchin, and her song, "The Angel's Serenade," with a violin obligato—by Miss Allston, was one of the strong features of the evening. The unique and skillful performance of Messrs. Beatty and Gadden was thoroughly enjoyed and the recitation by Miss Fannie Creight, and the reading of a selection from Riley by Miss Allston, delighted the audience and were thoroughly well done.

Mrs. Flenniken's brilliancy of execution was well displayed in the difficult composition of Wallace which she rendered so beautifully. It is hoped that it will not be long before we have another such musical treat.

MR. T. K. ELLIOTT MISSING.

Write on His Way Home He Disappears in Washington. The Latest News is Encouraging.

As has been known, Mr. Thomas H. Elliott, president of the Winstonsboro Bank, began to fail in health about a year ago and suffered a great deal from nervous prostration, thought to have been superinduced by overwork. At the solicitation of his family and friends he went to the North to recuperate and be treated by specialists. He returned to Winstonsboro in January and seemed to be restored to his usual health. He resumed his work in the bank and did it with his accustomed ability. About a month or six weeks ago he again commenced to suffer with sleeplessness and the consequent depressed spirits. He went on to be treated in a sanitarium near Baltimore. Mrs. Elliott went to accompany him home, and on this way home they stopped over Thursday and Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Douglass in Washington. On Friday morning Mr. Douglass accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Elliott to the depot. While waiting for the departure of the train, Mr. Elliott, upon some slight pretense, left the room. In the course of ten minutes, as he had not returned, Mrs. Elliott and Mr. Douglass became alarmed, and upon instituting a search he could not be found. The police were notified and everything possible was done. Messrs. A. F. Ruff and Thos. H. Ketchin have both gone to Washington to give assistance. Mr. E. Scott Douglass, of Columbia, who was also staying at Mr. C. A. Douglass', arrived in Winstonsboro on Monday and reported that a man had been seen in Alexandria and vicinity answering to the description of Mr. Elliott. Mr. Elliott was suffering from melancholia, and his morbid condition accounts for his conduct. His friends have been very solicitous about him, and they hope that he will soon be found. On Friday morning, both at Mr. Douglass' and at the depot, Mr. Elliott was very cheerful and seemed in good spirits.

BLACKSTOCK BRIEFS.

Mrs. Jennie Rosborough died at her home in Blackstock Sunday morning at 6.25 o'clock aged 85 years and three months. Her remains will be buried in Concord graveyard to-day. Mrs. Rosborough was stricken with paralysis about two weeks ago and gradually grew worse till death. She was a devoted Christian, and attended public worship up to about three weeks ago. She leaves many relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

The debate on convocation came off Friday night. The affirmative won, although both sides did well.

Prof. Hand, of the Chester graded school, will speak in the Blackstock Academy on Friday night. The public is cordially invited to attend. Those who have heard Mr. Hand always go to hear him again when they get the chance.

On Saturday the barber shop caught fire but was soon put out by the fire extinguisher.

DOUGLASS-HEYWARD.

A Beautiful Afternoon Wedding at Trinity Church.

The Bride, April 21.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the wedding of Miss Sallie Cole, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Heyward, to Mr. Edgar Scott Douglass was solemnized by the Rev. W. E. Evans at Trinity church.

Miss Heyward has been a favorite and attractive member of Columbia society since she bloomed out a few years ago. Mr. Douglass is a rising young member of the Columbia bar and has already made his mark.

The pews reserved for the family connection were separated from the rest of the church by a cord-fringed with white ribbons. Within this boundary line of flowers the way on each side was set with callas, tied with white ribbon. The approach to the chancel and the steps were covered with white. The church was festal in her Easter robes and great pots of callas, daisies and Easter lilies were placed on the altar.

The ushers were Messrs. Albert and Halseot Heyward, Albert Douglass, Ed Douglass, Albert Gaillard and Robert Elliott. Each of these gentlemen wore in his buttonhole a Marchal Niel rosebud.

Professor Lovewell played sweet and expressive music while the large concourse of friends and well-wishers were assembling. Punctually the bridal train arrived. Sweet, fresh voices were heard chanting:

"The voice that breathed our Eden," and, by and by, 92 girl choristers moved slowly up the aisle singing tunefully and in excellent time. They wore the round black cap, and black and white robes that form the picturesque choir dress, and each maid wore two white roses pinned on the left shoulder.

Miss Blanche O'Neal, the maid of honor, followed. She wore a dress of soft white wool, decked with lace, a white hat with a wealth of pink roses and carried a bouquet of beautiful lilies.

The bride followed, on the arm of her father. She was a charming picture of youth and dignity. Her robe was a lustrous white silk, made high in the neck with Medici collar, and with sleeves long and narrow in the arm and puffed at the shoulder. Her long white veil was held in place by a knot of white roses, and her bouquet of exquisite bride roses was tied with floating white streamers. The choristers took their places in the choir-stalls, the ushers grouped on each side. Mr. Douglass and his best man, Mr. Albert Withers, advanced to the front and the solemn marriage service was duly performed. Then followed by the choristers, singing "O, Perfect Love, all Human Thought Transcending," the stately young bride and her happy bridegroom, and the handsome maid of honor and best man passed down the aisle.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass left on the outgoing northern train for a trip to Washington to visit the family of their brother, Mr. Charles A. Douglass. They will return shortly to the warm welcome of Columbia.
